INDICATIONS ARE IT WILL BE A WEDDING

Harry Dillon's Friends Will Be Glad to Learn More About This.

Harry Dillon, cornet player in the Hammond Orpheum theatre orchestra has suddenly shown a preference for such orchestrations as "I Think You're Absolutely Wonderful," "Kiss Me Again," and "Love's Old Sweet Song." The boys in the pit and those back of the stage tell their friends that Harry is going to be married within a few days, but that's about all they seem to know about the romance. It is a Hammond girl, they think. Harry has laid in a stock of handsome neckwear and felt hats.

You want to get 'em now," (meaning the ties and hats), advised fat burring, stage manager, speaking with the wisdom of an old married man.

It's about time Harry got married," said Manager Jim Michelstetter. "Time is fleeting and he is no longer young."

"The older they are the harder they fall," declared Dorothy Paul Bennett, who did Hamlet in the falsetto days.

'SPEED UP'—CROWDER
(By UNITED PRESS)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Speed was the word sent out today by Provost Marshal Crowder in urging all draft boards to prepare for America's greatest registration day, September 12. Crowder hopes to have the registration completed within ten days or two weeks, so the lottery may be held on October 12.RAILWAY EMPLOYEES' PAY UP(By UNITED PRESS)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Nearly a million railway employees of the lower pay classes not covered by the last wage increase were granted increases in pay today. In substance the raise will be $25 a month over the January 1 rate for those on monthly time and 12 cents an hour for those on an hourly base.GERMANY BRINGS BIG GUNS UP(UNITED PRESS CABLEGRAM)
WITH THE BRITISH IN FRANCE, Sept. 5.—Endeavoring for the moment to turn their retreat into an astute battle the Germans are unleashing big guns far in the rear on all points of the British advance. This supplements the fire of a strong line of heavy and light machine guns along the Nord canal. The Germans hope to make the British pay heavily for all the ground this side of the Hindenburg line.

The strong nature of the enemy resistance is shown by the fact that they are still able to hold the east bank of the canal.

All is reported going well from Peronne to the Somme river.

The storm of shells methodically dropped along the present front together with extensive gassing which is flooding the valleys and woods indicates the German high command is seeking to obtain the initiative until Motor-driven chair and occupants at New York Zoological park.

To release for war work the men who have furnished the motive power for wheel chairs in parks and at the beaches, motor-driven chairs are replacing the old kind. The management of the New York Zoological park has installed these electric storage battery driven chairs. The occupants run them. The chairs are to be installed at summer resorts and in hospitals.

MOB SURRENDERS TO MIGHTY MUSICBY JOSEPH SHAPIRO
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Revolutions are as companionable as a pretty woman. They can throw a pencil into a welter of joy and fits of despair. They bring out the noblest and basest in man. That is just exactly what the thousand revolution has done to the Russian people.

When one arrived in Petrograd last January he found mobs of civilians and soldiers smashing and robbing wine cellars and setting beauty salons.

The unkindest cut of all came with the revolution to the old court chamberlains. There was a typical, wild mob of the French Revolution. It was disgusting, abhorrent, repulsive to see that mob at work.

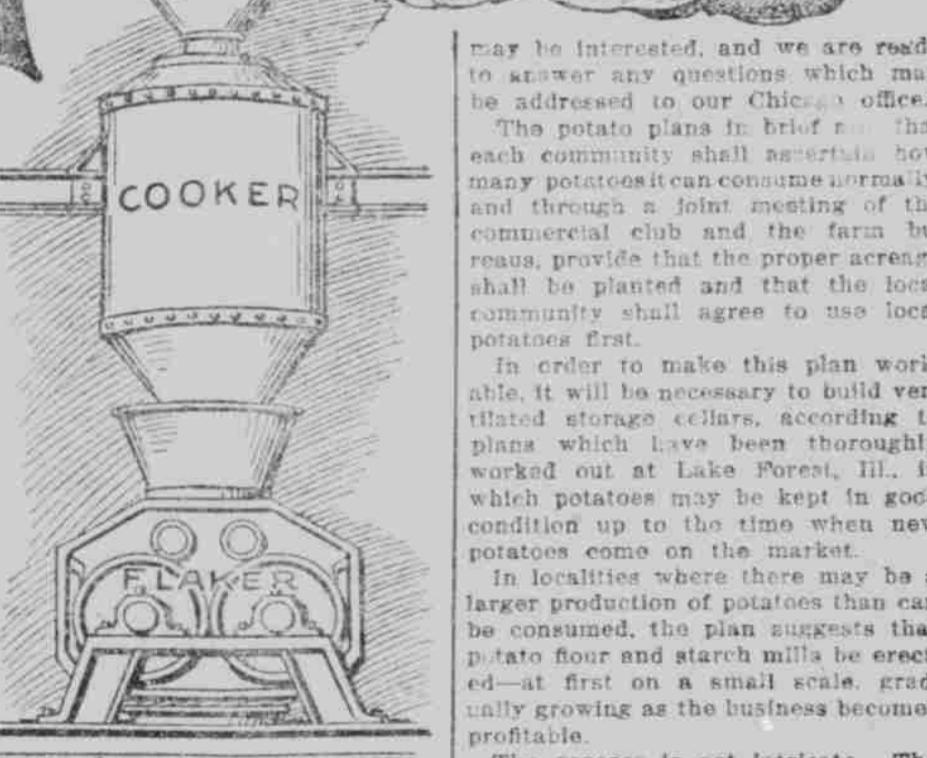

About 6 months later—during the May First demonstration—I met the much tattered mob in one of the magnificent halls of the Winter Palace. There was something quite different written on those faces. There was ecstasy and exultation. These people had been marching several hours, with red banners singing songs of freedom, brotherhood and the Internationale. They were no half starved, but there was a marvelous, significant fire in those eyes. I marvelled. I was puzzled until from a neighboring room I suddenly heard the strain of wonderful music. It was the famous Petrograd conductor, Kouts, leading his orchestra. The smashers of wine cellars sat motionless, enchanted. I suddenly understood.

They were listening to the sweet strains of the Requiem of Mozart.

POTATO FLOUR

may be interested, and we are ready to answer any questions which may be addressed to our Chicago office.

The potato plant in brief is that each community shall ascertain how many potatoes it can consume normally, and through a joint meeting of the commercial club and the farm bureaus, provide that the proper acreage shall be planted and that the local community shall agree to use local potatoes first.

In order to make this plan workable, it will be necessary to build ventilated storage cellars, according to plans which have been thoroughly worked out at Lake Forest, Ill., in which potatoes may be kept in good condition up to the time when new potatoes come on the market.

In localities where there may be a larger production of potatoes than can be consumed, the plan suggests that potato flour and starch mills be erected—at first on a small scale, gradually growing as the business becomes profitable.

The process is not intricate. The potatoes are first washed and stones removed and then passed through a steam cooker into a flaking machine which consists of two large steam-heated rolls which toast the potatoes into a thin layer very much like corn flakes.

These baked potatoes are then ground in a suitable mill of which there are several types, and the flour thus obtained from the whole potatoes containing all the vitamins, may be sacked or barreled and kept indefinitely.

The starch process consists of washing and settling, and a great deal of the potato value is thus lost. There are two successful potato mills now in operation, one in Idaho Falls, and the other in Aroostook County, Maine.

To our shame it must be said that all the potato flour we have heretofore used has been imported from Germany, where potatoes constitute nearly half of the diet.

"Are we hungry? Not yet. But it is high time that we Americans should provide to feed, not only ourselves, but also our wards in chancery. We can do it easily. Let every county have its quota," says Mr. Baackes, "and be held to a strict accountability and we need have no fear of famine."

National Crop Improvement Service

THE WASTE OF GOOD POTATOES IS UNPatriotic if not criminal. The world needs every ounce of food which can be produced.

It is wrong to depend upon the railroads when experience has proven that a spell of bad weather can upset every transportation system.

"Potatoes may be grown in every section of the United States," says Mr. Frank Baackes, speaking of the organization of the Agricultural Commission of the American Steel and Wire Company. "Both Doctor Horner and Doctor Laufer of our agricultural commission are working night and day to obtain and disseminate data in order to establish a much better system of potato utilization.

"We have already worked out plans which are now available to all who PARIS, Sept. 5.—General Berthier's army around Rheims is today helping General Mangin develop the success won elsewhere on the Aisne-Vieille line.

The armies around Rheims have hitherto not been engaged in the present battle. This is entirely a new operation.

The line of the Vesle has been entirely taken. Undoubtedly tonight the French and Americans will appear
